The following gem from the writings of Dickens has of late been going the rounds of the press. It was beautiful before; the world's bereavement of last Thursday evening makes it sadly appropriate now:

"There is nothing—no, nothing—beautiful and good that dies and is forgotten. An infant, a prattling child, dying in its cradle, will live again in the better thoughts of those who loved it, and play its part, though its body be burned to ashes or buried in the deepest sea. There is not an angel added to the hosts of heaven but does its blessed work on earth in those who loved it here. Dead! Oh, if the good deeds of human creatures could be traced to their source, how beautiful would even death appear! for how much charity, mercy and purified affection would be seen to have their growth in dusty graves!"

The Petersburg (Va.) papers relate the following registration incident in that city:

An aged colored man came up to his voting place upon crutches, seemingly with great difficulty. The prescribed formula, 'How old are you?' was asked, when the old man was thrown in to much perplexity. Recovering himself, however, he muttered in an under tone, which was overheard:

'Well, how ole is my ole massa?'

It so happened that a gentleman was standing by, well acquainted with him who promptly answered:

'Your old master is about fifty-five years old.'

'Well, how ole is missus?'

'She is about forty-five years old.'

'An' Miss Sallie?'

'Thirty-five, perhaps, next fall.'

'An' young missus?'

'Nineteen this coming August.'

'Well, I'se older den all put together; for I know when dey all was born.'

It is needless to say that the the old man was passed amid the good feelings of all present.

AMERICAN TAXATION.

Some time ago one of our cotemporaries inquired through his paper where a copy of what we take to be a revolutionary ballad with the above title could be had. Since then, we have seen no reference to the production by any of our neighbors, but having access to files of The Aurora, published at New Lisbon from 1832 to 1856, in looking over the first volume we find the article inquired for, which appeared in October of that year. It is not probable that our young people know anything of this quaint production, and perhaps not many middle-aged people have heard of it, but there may be a few old people to whom its words and sentiments are familiar. The grandfathers and grandmothers of the past generation, we presume, took delight in singing and repeating the patriotic sentiments which it embodies:

AMERICAN TAXATION.

While I relate my story, Americans, give ear,
Of Britain's fading glory you presently shall hear;
I'll give a true relation, attend to what I say
Concerning the taxation of North America.

The cruel lords of Britain, who glory in our shame,
The project they have hit on, they joyfully proclaim;
'Tis what they're striving after, to take our rights away,
To rob us of our charter in North America.

There are two mighty speakers, who rule in parliament,
Who always have been seekers some mischief to invent;
'Twas wrath and beauty's father, this horrid plan did lay,
A mighty tax to gather in North America.

Old Satan, the arch traitor, resolved the voyage to make,
Who rules, sole navigator upon the burning lake;
For the Britanic ocean he launches far away,
To land he had no notion, in North America.

He takes his seat in Britain, and 'twas his sole intent,
King George's throne to sit on, and rule in parliament;
Their comrades were pursuing, a diabolic way,
For to accomplish the ruin of North America.

They tried the art of magic to bring their scheme about,
At length the gloomy project was artfully found out;
The plan was long indulged in a clandestine way,
But lately was divulged in North America.

There subtle art combiners addressed the British court,
All three were undersigners of the obscene report;
There is a pleasant landscape which lieth far away,
Beyond the wide Atlantic in North America.

There is a worthy people who sojourn in that land,
Whose churches all with steeples most delectably stand;
Their houses, like the giddy, are painted red and gay,
They flourish like the lily in North America.

The land with milk and honey continually doth flow,
The want of food or money they scarcely ever know;
A heap of golden treasures—they have no debts to pay,
They spend their time with pleasure in North America.

On turkey, fowl and fishes most frequently they dine,
With gold and silver dishes their tables always shine;
They crown their feasts with butter, they eat and rise to play,
In silks the ladies flutter in North America.

With gold and silver laces they do themselves adorn,
The ruby decks their faces, refulgent as the morn;
Wine sparkles in their glasses, they spend each happy day,
In merriment and dance in North America.

Let not our suit affront you, when we address your throne,
O, king, this wealthy country, and subjects are your own;
And you, their lawful sovereign, we truly must obey,
You have a right to govern this North America.

O, king, you've heard the sequel of what we now prescribe,
Is it not just and equal to tax this worthy tribe;
The question being asked his majesty did say,
My subjects shall be tax'd in North America.

Invested with my warrants my forces shall go,
The tenth of all their currency, they shall on me bestow;
If they indulge in rebellion, or from my precepts stray,
I'll send my whole battallion to North America.

I'll fully all my forces, by water and by land,
My ships, dragoons and horse, shall go at my command;
I'll burn both town and city, the smoke shall cloud the day,
I'll show no human pity in North America.

Go on my hardy soldiers, you need not fear of ill,
There's Hutchinson and Rogers, their places we will fill;
They tell such ample stories, believe we surely may,
That one half will turn tories in North America.

The laws I have enacted, I never will revoke,
Although they are neglected my fury to provoke;
I will forbear to flatter, I'll rule with mighty sway,
I'll take away the charter in North America.

Oh, George, you are distracted, and examiners find,
The laws you have enacted, are of the blackest kind,
I'll make a short digression, and tell you by the way,
We fear not your oppression in North America.

Our fathers were distressed while in their native land,
By tyrants were oppressed as I do understand;
For freedom and religion they were resolved to stray,
And try the distant regions of North America.

Heaven was their sole protector while on the roaring tide,
Kind fortune their protector, and providence their guide:
If I am not mistaken, 'twas on the first of May,
In peace our father's settled in North America.

We are their bold descendants, for liberty we'll fight,
Our claim to independence, we challenge as our right;
'Tis what kind heaven gave us, who then can take away,
Kind Heaven, too, can save us in North America.

We never will knock under, O, George, we do not fear,
The rattling of your thunder, nor lightning of your spear;
Tho' rebels you declare us, we're strangers to dismay,
Therefore you cannot scare us in North America.

We have a bold commander, who fears no sword or gun,
The second Alexander, his name is Washington;
His men are all collected and ready for the fray,
To fight they are directed for North America.

We have Green, Gates, and Putnam, to manage in the field,
A gallant train of footmen, who'd rather die than yield;
A stately troop of horsemen, trained in a martial way,
For to augment our forces in North America.

Proud George, you are engaged, all in a trifling cause,
The cruel war you raged—repugnant to all laws;
So tell the savage natives, you're crueler than they,
To fight their own relations, in North America.

Ten millions you demanded, and twice ten millions more,
Our riches you intended, should pay the mighty score;
Who now will stand your sponser, your charges to defray,
For sure you cannot conquer, this North America.

I'll tell you, George, in meter, if you'll attend a while,
We forced your Sir Peter, from Sullivan's fair isle;
At Monmouth town we gained the honors of the day,
The victory obtained for North America.

We truly tell your betters, hard by Brandywine,
We had him fast in fetters, whose name was John Burgoyne;
We'll make your forces tremble with terror and dismay,
Therefore you cannot scare us in North America.

Confusion to the tories, that black infernal name,
In which Great Britain glories forever to our shame;
We'll send each foul revolter, to smooty Africa,
Or noose him with a halter in North America.

A help to our brave footmen, who handle sword and gun,
To warn our Gates and Putnam and conquering Washington;
Their fame is wrote in letters, which never shall decay,
While sun and moon do glisten in North America.

Success unto our allies of Holland, France and Spain,
Who armed their ships and gallies, our freedom to maintain;
Their fame is wrote in letters, which never shall decay,
While sun and moon do glitter in North America.

Success unto the congress of the United States,
Who triumph in the conquest of Washington and Gates;
To all, both land and seamen, who glory in the day,
When we shall all be freemen in North America.

Success to legislation that rules with gentle hand,
To trade and navigation, by water and by land;
May all with one opinion, our wholesome laws obey,
Throughout the vast dominion of North America.

TO THE WOOL GROWERS OF OHIO.

The third annual woolen manufacturers' association of the northwest will be held in the city of Indianapolis, Indiana, commencing August 3, 1870, lasting four days. A very urgent request has been made of the wool growers to participate and furnish samples of their flocks. Samples of an amount to convey with sufficient clearness the quality may be sent in sacks or boxes marked "For the exposition, in care of the Committee of the Wool en Manufacturers' Association of the Northwest, Indianapolis, Indiana." It is desirable that whole fleeces be sent that the committee may be the better able to judge of the merits of the several samples on exhibition, the larger the amount the better.

Last year the man that carried off the golden prize on Spanish Merino wool had eighteen fleeces on exhibition. Gentlemen wool growers of Ohio, it is to be hoped that you will not let this opportunity pass without showing to the manufacturers that Ohio produces clothing and combing wools equal, if not superior to that grown anywhere on the globe. Though the woolen interests of the United States, as well as the commercial world, is somewhat depressed, it is but temporary and beyond the control of either the manufacturers or wool growers. A normal condition will soon be restored if congress will adhere to its present position on the woolen tariff. A business so vast and so important cannot remain in a languishing condition very long. The exposition cannot fail to awaken an interest to the vastness of this country. I will venture to predict greater prosperity before twelve months.

These expositions will also afford an excellent opportunity for the wool growers to become acquainted with their best and only customers, the manufacturers. A comparison of products must be of great value, as well as satisfaction to each. Here they can converse as to the kind of wools needed for certain varieties of goods and the kinds that will be the most insignificant for a few years. One year the wool buyer has wanted the farmer to grow a certain kind of wool, the next year some other kind, which has proven very unpleasant and unprofitable; this evil will be avoided by a personal interview with manufacturers.

Now, brother wool growers, let us rally to the importance of our interests at this critical moment and assist in making the next exposition like the last, a triumphant success. Let us not only send samples, but attend the exhibition. We may then form valuable and lasting acquaintances that will prove pleasant and profitable in after life. JUSTUS C. STEVENS,
President of the Ohio State Wool Growers Association.
Kenton, O., May 27, 1870.

THE KEY TO CHINESE CHARACTER AND SOCIETY.

China and the Chinese are a great mystery to the world at large, and scarcely less of a mystery to the dwellers in China than to those who never set foot on the Flowery Land. The people of the country are a great study, but a study in which little actual progress is made. I have heard those who have been here ten years or more, confess that they knew as little of Chinese character, and were almost as unable to comprehend the national traits, as when they first came to this country. They are a very stolid, uncommunicative, undemonstrative race; so that foreigners may be associated with them for years, or may have them in their house as servants and constantly in his presence, and know no more about them than the day he first saw them. Any one can read the outside, the surface, of their character; but few get beneath the surface.

Of course, in the brief sojourn which I am making, I do not pretend to any such insight; but I have found one key which, I think, affords an explanation to the perfectly uniform and stereotype character which the nation has maintained for centuries, and which it seems determined to sustain for centuries to come. A Chinaman is a Chinaman in every part of the empire and the world over. He is nothing else and can be made nothing else; and he has been the same for ages. I think that one explanation to this is to be found in the fact that the educated and ruling class of the country are all cast in one mould. The ideas of the nation were formed some two thousand years ago; and the only system of education, which has existed since that time has, per force, not only compelled the people to adopt these ideas, but has ground them into their very natures and made them a part of the national character; as much as the peculiar features of the countenances of the people.

All who have read anything about China, must have met with frequent references to the competitive examinations which are the great stimulus to education. The Chinese are eminently literary people, a large portion of them being able to read and write, while the highly educated class is very numerous. But this is not the result of any such system of general instruction as prevails in America and European countries. The schools do not comprise the mass of the children, nor are they of a high class. The education of the people, is in a great measure, voluntary; and, such as it is, is secured by its being the only road to position in society, and to political station and preferment. The competitive examination is the ordeal through which all must pass successfully in order to secure position: and this examination is a sort of mould in which the Chinese mind is cast, and from which it comes out uniform in shape and character. It is conducted on this wise.

The empire is divided into provinces and districts, for each of which there is a separate examination—the district, the provincial and the imperial. No one is required to go through an examination, but it is open to all, with the exception of a few classes, such as the children of executioners, jailors, prostitutes, &c. Before any one can be a candidate for the lowest, the district examination, he must have passed through a satisfactory examination before a magistrate, and must present satisfactory testimonials as to his parentage, character, &c. At the appointed time the candidates, who usually number many thousands, assemble at the capital city of the district and have assigned to them subjects for essays and a poem, which they are required to produce without assistance and within twenty-four hours. The most extensive arrangements are made for the accommodation of this vast number of persons, and also for guarding them from external aid, which will be given in a description of the provincial hall I visited at Canton. The essays are carefully examined by Government officials; and so rigid is the ordeal, that scarcely more than one in a hundred passes the test. The successful competitors receive the degree of B. A.—not Bachelor of Arts, but Beautiful Ability. And the point peculiarly noteworthy is, that all the themes are taken from the writings of the Chinese sages of two thousand years ago. The essays are not only expected to be a reflection of their teachings, but it is impossible that it should be otherwise, inasmuch as the previous training of the candidate has been confined almost exclusively to their writings. Only those who receive the first degree in the district examination, are allowed to compete for the second in the provincial.

The provincial examination occurs once in three years at the capital of the province, where a large hall, as it is called, is devoted exclusively to this purpose. The one at Canton (the capital of the province of Quang Tung,) is 1,330 feet long, 583 feet wide, and contains cells, arranged in long rows like stalls for horses, for 8,552 candidates. The whole enclosure is surrounded by a high wall, and each row of cells is enclosed and under the supervision of an officer, whose duty it is to prevent all communication between the candidates or with the outer world. Here they are shut up, after being carefully searched, to prevent their taking in upon their persons anything that might assist them in the preparation of their essays. Themes taken as before from the classics or four books are given them on several successive days; the essays and poems, which are to be produced within a given time, are carefully copied in red ink to prevent recognition by the examiners of the source from which they come, and they are then subjected to the rigid criticism of literary men appointed by the imperial government. On the close of the examination, the names of the successful ones are posted on the outer wall and are heralded throughout the province. They bear the same proportion to the whole as before—one to a hundred. They receive the second degree, A. M.—not Master of Arts, but Advanced Men,—and become candidates for the third and highest examination, which is held triennially at Peking and which is equally rigid with the preceding.—Those who pass and recieve the last degree, become eligible to public offices and enter into the most honored and ruling class in the empire. Only two or three hundred out of the thousands who have passed the lower succeed in the imperial examination; but in this, as in the lower, they have the privilege of trying again, and thus many present themselves triennially, term after term, in the hope of succeeding. In this way, too, under the stimulous of hope, fifty or a hundred times as many as are successful in obtaining the prize, receive the training and become members of the communities to which they belong.

There is no prize presented to the mind of the Chinese youth, which exerts such a power over him and which is such a stimulous to unbending effort as the third degree. It comprises all that his ambition could desire—position in society, office, honor, wealth. The successful candidate, on his return home from the capital, is feasted and feted, and frequently a pagoda or other building is erected in his honor and as a memorial of the honor which has come upon the place.

But I have referred to this subject only as giving something of an insight into Chinese character, and as showing why it is that the Chinese remain so much the same, while other nations are undergoing change. They are a stereotype people; they are educated in a system of ideas which have been handed down through twenty centuries; the hoary-headed antiquity of these ideas makes them venerable in their eyes, and it is not strange that they wish future generations to travel in the same path which they and their fathers have trod so long.

If any one wishes to get an insight into Chinese character and thought, he must not attempt to do it by penetrating the stolid Chinese of the present day; let him turn to the teachings of the Chinese sages,—Confucius, Mencius, &c.—he will be at the fountain of their ideas. The corruption of the human mind leads them to depart even from the wise instructions of these sages, but these instructions are still the mould into which the Chinese mind is run.

A rude fellow once told Mr. Barnum he had never exhibited anything that wasn't a barefaced humbug. 'Yes, I have," said Barnum; "the bearded lady wasn't barefaced."

THE GREAT APPREHENSION.

There is an increasing anxiety manifested in the reported condition of the sun, in whose fiery body are occurring changes that threaten to involve not merely the comfort, but even the habitation of the earth. Upon the latter, however, it is no time to speculate. But as for the plain facts themselves, such as the actual occurrence of magnetic storms, sweeping across the great gulfs that appear in the sun's body, and showing to the eye the trailing play of flames, whose length and fierceness no human power can calculate, they are deserving of consideration in connection with what has long been asserted in this and some other journals, viz, that the magnetic conditions of the earth and its inhabitants are rapidly undergoing a change, and that the mortal of the not distant future will, unquestionably, live under direct influence from above, transmuted through earth and atmosphere, which cannot but give him a very different character from the man of the past.

The astronomers are making these phenomena so plain and impressive that it is not possible for intelligent persons to remain indifferent to them. They go to show how closely the people of the earth are beset with conditions not of their own making, both direct and indirect, near and remote. If we are sensitive to the state of the atmosphere right about us, so are we dependent equally on the mysterious forces that send their subtle influences to us from the far off solar orb or the most distant stars. It is reported by scientific observers that the spots to be seen at the present time on the solar disc, surpass in size any that have been recorded since the century came in. Some of them are millions of miles in extent, and it has frequently been noticed, that simultaneously with the sudden lighting up of their dark and ragged edges with flame, the telegraphic circuits of the world have manifested a visible disturbance through the magnetic needles, and the vast magnetic storms that were raging in the sun have been accompanied by proper announcements from self-registering instruments. And with these disturbances of the sun likewise occur the fine auroral displays at night—those brilliant and and beautiful pulsations of the great magnetic arteries of the universe. These auroral waves are responsive to the solar phenomena, and demonstrate the close affinity which the earth maintains to the sun.

At last it is getting through the prejudiced skulls of men of 'Science,' that so subtle an element as magnetism, operating through a space so vast as that which stretches between us and the solar centre, is as well able to produce actual and substantial effects as the visible mechanical forces are supposed to be causes instead of agents merely. One savant begins to see the light; when he asks the question in connection with these remarkable phenomena, "Are these accidental connections, or are they really due to a magnetic influence which the sun exerts upon the earth?" Yes, and we will here add, if upon the earth, then upon the earth's inhabitants. It is becoming more commonly admitted that such an influence does exist, and that it is felt with more directness with every such solar disturbance as we have alluded to. Then what follows? Clearly but this, that such changes as are now known to be going on in the sun will inevitably work wonderful changes in the climatic conditions of our planet, making parts of it that are now habitable desolate, and converting cold into heat, and barrenness into fertility. Or they may make it necessary that an entirely new order of beings shall supplant us helpless mortals.

But that is purely speculative. The knowledge that lies like a rich treasury in the spiritual realms, ready to to enlighten and bless all who are receptive and trustful, has long ago made clear the outlines of these impressive truths, and led many to assimilate their lives to their belief, instead of waiting to be driven out of their wits by solicitude and fear. Spiritualism has long taught the science of the intimate magnetic connection which our little planet sustains to all other planets and spheres, of the central orb of our system, to the far-off realms of light and life, to the whole boundary of God's vast universe. It has held the truth of the transmission of intelligence back from the upper spheres to the lower, of the constant influence exercised over sublunary affairs by mental powers that have taken position beyond; of the eternal unity that reigns over every part and parcel of the wide creation. We may speculate on these solar phenomena as we choose; they only serve to illustrate the spiritualistic belief in a semi material way. People begin to be believe when they see telegraphic influences disturbed at the very moment of a disturbance in the sun; but will they not sometime see that law of influence is just as operative when working without any disturbance at all?—Banner of Light.

Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is no patent medicine humbug gotten up to dupe the ignorant and credulous, nor is it represented as being "composed of rare and precious substances, brought from the four corners of the earth, carried seven times across the Great Desert of Sahara, on the backs of fourteen camels, and brought over the Atlantic ocean on two ships." It is a mild, soothing, pleasant remedy, a perfect specific for Chronic nasal catarrh, 'cold in the head,' and kindred diseases. The proprietor, R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., (whose private government stamp is on every package of the genuine,) offers a reward of $500 for a case of catarrh he cannot cure. For sale by druggists. Sent by mail, postpaid, for 60 cents. Address the proprietor as above.

The Independent.

Two Dollars a year, in advance.

Massillon, Wednesday, June 29.

Congress has of late become quite extravagant in squandering the public lands profusely among railroad corporations, recently giving one company enough to make a little state. The people are coming down more strongly every day in opposition to such waste of their patrimony. We all like to see improvements going on, and especially railroads, but when there is such a combination of wealth and power accumulating in this direction it is time to look the matter seriously in the face. Labor and capital are now arraying themselves against each other, and this policy of investing corporations with such immense sources of landed wealth, has a tendency to increase the dissension between the two influences. Most of our railroads were made without the advantage of such gifts—for these lands are mere bonuses to companies receiving them—and they are now a power in the land, and to some, portending evil consequences. We are pleased to see that the member to congress from this district, Hon. J. A. Ambler, placed his vote decidedly against this squandering of the public lands. For this he deserves the special commendation of his constituents, and we hope his claims will not be forgotten at the proper time. Although in the minority on this point in congress, Mr. A. is right, and he will be sustained in his laudable course.

CONGRESSIONAL.—Columbiana county has already made nominations by the republican party, and of course, as there is no opposition Mr. Ambler, present member of congress from this district, receives the undivided support of the party in that county. So it will be in Stark and Jefferson. As to the democracy having a candidate for that place, in this district, the name of bro. C. N. Allen, editor of the Gazette, at Steubenville, has been suggested by some of that party, and like Barkis, his willin'.

In the 18th district Mr. Upson, of Summit, has been renominated without serious opposition, and like Mr. Ambler, will be triumphantly re-elected.

In the 19th district, including what is sometimes called benighted Ashtabula, Mr. Garfield, the present able representative, has no opposition, so he will be renominated without fail—the republicans having some 9,000 or 10,000 majority there.

The probability is, that Mr. Bingham will be renominated in the 16th district, and be very apt to be re-elected.

Mr. Welker, of the 14th district has a host of friends favorable to his return to the next congress, and it is probable that he will be chosen again, Holmes county to the contrary notwithstanding.

1819--1870.

On the 27th and 28th days of May, 1840, the Ohio State Antislavery convention was held in this place, in a new church, then unfinished, erected by the Baptists, but now in possession of the Methodist congregation here. A large number of delegates and other abolitionists from different societies in the state, and distinguished friends of the cause from other states were present. Distinguished speakers were in attendance, prominent among whom were Asa Mahan, then president of Oberlin college, Dyer Burgess, of New York, Rev. Mr. Thompson then residing somewhere in Ohio, several professors from Oberlin, and other names not now remembered. Considerable business connected with the cause of liberty was at that time transacted, and and its friends strengthened to go on with the great work in which they so ardently and faithfully labored. Earnest men and women were they who made up the membership of that memorable meeting. The writer hereof knows of one that walked almost 45 miles on the 26th to be here, and others came hundreds of miles to participate in the transactions.

In 1840 abolitionists—at least some of them—who had been at work for nearly ten years, entirely by moral means and the social relations against slavery, began to talk of resorting to political action. By a few this policy was favored at that convention, held thirty years ago, but the majority adhered to the old landmarks. Still this did not stop the movement, for during the presidential campaign of 1840, memorable as the most exciting one which had ever marked the history of the country, James G. Birney, of Kentucky, a philanthropic man, with a mind and soul worthy the fame of a hero, martyr, and statesman, was nominated by the Liberty party, as its candidate for president; and on the same ticket was placed the name of Wm. Earl, of Philadelphia, another of nature's noblemen for vice president. Gen. Harrison, of Ohio, was the whig candidate for president, and John Tyler, of Virginia, for vice president; while Van Buren, of N. Y., was the democratic candidate for president. The political war was hot, and it was the first time that women began to attend such meetings, where they were to be found in thousands, especially at the tremendous whig gatherings, and joined in in singing political songs then as numerous as the frogs of Egypt. So great was woman's influence during that canvass that Rev. Edward Smith, a Methodist antislavery preacher of rare ability and wit, said that they sung Gen. Harrison into the presidency. But this is digressing.

Although but few were present at this annual antislavery convention who favored separate political action, there seemed to be a spirit prevading among many people in its favor that could not be repressed. An electoral ticket was formed afterward in favor of Birney & Earl, which received something more than 900 votes in Ohio. But that was a good year for the whigs, Gen. Harrison didn't leave but six states for Van Buren, and Birney and Earl had some 6,000 votes in the nation.

Without referring further to the transactions of the convention, at present, let it answer to state that during the three following decades our country has passed through a mighty revolution, one in which Liberty has completely triumphed over slavery; and we may justly claim that this comparatively small convention was not without its influence in the right direction. Then it was the political, legislative, social and ecclesiastical powers of the country were almost a unit in favor of American slavery. But agencies were then at work, set in motion by the best minds of the age, and presented to all classes of people with an earnestness, ability and perseverance that knew no faltering, that entirely obliterated the word fail from their lexicon of action. The battle waged in social life, at the synod, presbytery, convocation, general assembly, among Baptists and Presbyterians, while Methodist class meetings, congregations, quarterly meetings, annual and quadrennial conferences were all made more or less the scenes of combat between liberty and oppression. Slavery then controlled them all. Ignorant preachers would talk Greek, say doubs, which they said meant a slave, and rattle off, like parrots, the proslavery sentiments of D. D's, who taked learnedly about Paul and Onesimus, and all that sort. Those then despised abolitionists led off in that noble revolution, and now we rejoice in the great living truth that such preachers—and legislators to correspond—have ceased to rule over this land.

According to agreement in both houses, entered into some weeks ago, congress will adjourn on the 15th of next month.

Mr. Akerman, of Georgia, whom the president nominated some days ago for the office of attorney general, in place of Mr. Hoar, of Massachusetts, resigned, has been confirmed, and will soon assume the duties of his office.

The income tax bill has died a natural death: its continuance has been killed off in the senate—for which let the land rejoice.

No material change has been made in favor of postage reform in congress, but they will have to come to it some day.

Gold continues to come down and the last quotation is 1.10¼, or very near it.

Late accounts inform us that the wheat crop in some portions of Europe will be short, as the season has been unfavorable. For this reason wheat and flour are going up in our home markets.

The cholera is reported as prevaing in some of the eastern nations, and the probability is that it will be making its way among certain classes in this country. A free practice of drunkenness and general filth are good cultivators of the scourge.

Spain has virtually abolished slavery in her colonies, by gradual emancipation—that is, doing right by degrees.

In consequence of the unusual heat cases of sun stroke are not uncommon in the larger cities. Several are reported as having lost their lives with in a few days. In some localities here the mercury is reported as having risen above 100 degress in the shade on last Sunday.

KILLED.—A miner by the name of Johnson was suddenly killed on last Friday at the Fulton coal bank. He was at the bottom of the shaft, and one of the buckets used for carrying material out and in the mine, broke loose, fell on the man, killing instantly.

There has been no compromise yet between the miners and proprietors in regard to going to work. The owners offer 70 cts, the price said to be paid at Youngstown and vicinity, but thus far the operators refuse to go to work at that price. This state of affairs is unfortunate for the numerous class of men who make their living by mining, to the proprietors, and to all the rest of community.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Regular session—Members in attendance—Messrs. Russell, Mong, Ogden, Conrad, Ruchti, Crone and Bollinger.

Proceedings of two previous meetings being read were approved.

Street Commissioner's regular report was submitted, showing $52 expended on the streets for the week ending June 18, 1870.

Mr Mong presented a profile of Cherry street, which on motion of Mr Conrad was referred to the street and alley committee with instructions to report an ordinance establishing the grade on Cherry and North streets.

Special committee on city prison submitted several plans, and on motion of Mr. Ogden the council resolved to accept the plan proposed by Mr. Crone, and the same referred back to the committee with instructions to report to the council an estimate of the cost of the proposed prison.

Mr. Crone, to whom was referred the subject matter in reference to a certain alley crossing the contemplated city park, reported that upon examining the records he found that said alley would, unless vacated by the council, cross the park; and presented to the council a petition from Jos. Coleman, N. Minich, J. E. McLain, M. Richheimer, and others, requesting the council to vacate so much of the aforesaid alley as will cross the park, also, to vacate 16 feet in width of the east side of Mill street, from Main to Tremont street.

On motion of Mr. Ogden the matter was referred to the city solicitor with instructions to take the necessary action to grant the prayer of the petitioners.

Mr. Mong, from the standing committee on water works, reported that the Massillon Water Co declines to put down any more pipe for the extension of water, unless the city agrees to extend the water contract for 20 years, and pay $25 per annum for every 180 feet of pipe ordered by the council to be laid down by the company.

Chief engineer of the fire department recommended as first assistant, Col. O. G. Madison; second assistant, Geo. Willison, and the same were approved by the council.

Dr. Barrick's resignation as a member of the Board of Health was tendered and accepted, and on motion of Mr. Ruchti, S. Buckius, Esq., was appointed to fill the vacancy.

A petition to open and improve Muskingum st., was presented and referred to street and alley committee.

Mr. Conrad moved that the matter in reference to a Board of Equalization be referred to the finance committee.

An order was drawn on the city treasury for $7,20 cents to pay assessment of the Columbiana County Insurance Co. on city property.

A communication from Board of City Improvements recommending an appropriation of $50 to pay clerk of said board, referred to committee on finance.

No general movement has yet been made for celebrating the coming national anniversary here. At a few other places the citizens are moving in the matter, and they expect to observe the 94th 95th day of the nation by appropriate exercises. Mr Wm. P Clay, however, gives notice that at the Mineral Springs, a beautifully located place, there will be provision made for all who wish to enjoy themselves on that day. The Massillon Silver Band will be there to discourse patriotic music. For such as desire to engage in the dance notice is given that such exercises will begin at 3 o'clock, p m Admission to the grounds free on that day and all other occasions, either by a few persons or by large parties, the conditions required is to have no strong drinks on the ground—an excellent provision. To all who would go there on that day it is hoped they will have a pleasant and joyous time. It is probable that most or all our business places will be closed on that day.

COMEDY.—Thursday evening, June 30th, Mr. E A Locke, the talented and popular comedian makes his appearance at the Opera House, in the drama of "Hans" this play was written expressly for Mr. L and so great a favorite has it become that, some of the best critics have denominated it a theatrical triumph. Mr Locke will be supported by the dramatic company from from Wood's theater, Cincinnati, who recently performed before a Toledo audience under the management of Mr. Macauley.

The performance to-morrow evening will be the opening of a brief season, during which will be presented many of the leading comedies, each one of which will be produced with a full and powerful cast of character.

Paris by Sunlight and Gaslight.—The Cincinnati Publishing company have issued an elegantly executed book of 800 pages, liberally illustrated, under the above title. The title of the book suggests a world of thought, for Paris in some sense, is considerable of a world in itself, got up in fine style, where nearly two millions of people live, some of them among the eminent men of the earth But the author, Mr. McCabe, tells us a thousand things, which cannot fail to interest the reader, about the government of the city, its people generally, their residences, how they live, their poverty and their wealth—for they have both extremes—their fine buildings, dwelling houses, and all sorts of public places. But to get full particulars send for the book, sold only by the publishers or their agents.

A second trial between the miners and their employers was to have taken place on Monday, but for some reason it was deferred to next Tuesday, July 5. Would it not be better for all interested in this difficulty to come to an understanding with each other, go to work and live harmoniously? They will find this the best way in the long run. Always working by contraries is disastrous to all who participate in carrying out such a spirit. Who has made mistakes, or whether any party has we are not able to decide—possibly both have—certain it is there is a misunderstanding that must be healed.

Since Mr. Mateer has commenced he work of putting up awnings he has had a considerable number of jobs about town. And his jurisdiction extends away over to Canada, for we see that Mr. Loew, the enterprising clothier, has invested in one of these useful conveniences. On this side of the canal Mr. Arnold, P. G. Albright, F. Sibila, L. Schaufele, and others have their premises shaded by these handy fixings

Mr. E. Jones, superintendent of the Massillon Union Schools, started on Monday last on a visit to his home in Massachusetts, where he will remain among his friends and relatives a few weeks—perhaps during most of the vication. Since coming here he has found his associations most welcome and agreeable, and our citizens are much pleased with his course as a teacher and citizen. We hope he may have a pleasant visit and return to his work safely.

New potatoes have been selling at $1,50 a bushel here.

NO! most emphatically! Some parties have sent us a circular proposing to print one half of our paper, gracefully allowing us to print the other half, provided we pay liberally for this generous offer. We prefer to be counted out of that list. Such a plan may suit others, but is not well adapted to this speck of latitude and longitude. When it becomes necessary for us to make such an arrangement to carry on a paper, we expect to gracefully subside into obscurity. Several times, within a few years such offers have been made to us, and notwithstanding the seeming temptations held out we could always set a hook in the bait

Our colored citizens of the African M. E church had a very pleasant and successful festival at Madison Hall, on Monday evening, which was liberally patronized by the people generally, realizing some $60. Strawberries, ice cream, cake, and other delicacies were plenty, and flowers, consisting of bouquets tastefully arranged were a prominent part of the entertainment.

The pen peddlar had his Tommy Dodd concert pretty well patronized, on the street, Monday evening, mixing up the programme with funny stories. He seemed to sell quite a number of pens, whether the buyers were sold or not is to be found out.

In a distant county in this state (Ottawa) we notice that the people are to do the fourth of July by going to Sandusky, where a foot race, horse races, climbing a greased pole, and other performances are to come off. They anticipate a lively time. A moonlight excursion is in the programme.

The ready reckoner scales at London's cheap cash store, are just the thing for the counter, persons in want of scales will do well to call and examine them.

Last Friday the mercury rose to 94, Saturday to 95, and in one place on Sunday to 104 degrees in the shade. Hot enough to make a locomotive pant.

The raspberry festival on last evening got up by the ladies of the Episcopal church at the Zielley House, was a grand success—very generally attended and liberally patronized by various denominations.

Continues to treat all private diseases syphilis in all its forms, gonorrhœa, gleet, stricture, orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; spermatorrhea or seminal weakness and impotency, resulting from self abuse or other causes, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured.

It is self evident that the physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire a greater skill in that speciality than one in general practice.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be sent by mail or express.

The doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases that can be had free at office or by mail, in sealed envelope, for two stamps. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The Great Medical Discovery!

Dr. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA VINEGAR BITTERS.

More than 300,000 persons bear testimony to their curative effects.

For Female Complaints, whether in old or young, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or the turn of life, these tonic bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

What are They?

They are a gentle purgative as well as a tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving congestion or inflammation of the liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

PLEASE READ NOT A

VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of poor rum, whisky, proof spirits, and refuse liquor, doctored, spiced, and sweetened to please the taste, called tonics, appetizers, restorers, &c., that lead the tipler on to drunkeness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all alcoholic stimulant.

They are the great blood purifier and life giving principle, a perfect renovater and invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter, and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell.

$100 will be given for an incurable case, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poisons or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For inflamatory and chronic rheumatism, and gout, dyspepsia, or indigestion, bilious, remittent, and intermittent fevers, disease of the blood, liver, kidneys and bladder, these bitters have been most successful. Such diseases are caused by vitiated blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the digestive organs.

Cleanse and vitiate blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions or sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when you find it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, tape, and other worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed.

In bilious, remittent and intermittent fevers, these bitters have no equal. For full directions read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

A large number of members of the masonic brotherhood of this place and vicinity attended the 24th of June celebration of the order at Akron on last Friday. The demonstration there is said to have been a fine one, some thousands of the fraternity participating. Gen. Jarvis, of this place, was president of the day. Everything passed off agreeably, and all returned pleased with what they saw and heard. Hon Rufus P. Spaulding, of Cleveland, delivered an appropriate address

A NEW AWNING.—A new awning has just been put up at Fred Sibila & Co's Clothing Store, on Main street, and at several other places in this city, by Mr. W. Matteer. It is ahead of anything of the kind we have ever seen, being protected from the weather when rolled up, and can be easily adjusted, rolled and unrolled. It works like a charm, and we advise all who are interested to examine this awning. 364-tf

Mr. Penoyer's device, which he has for sale, for canning all varieties of fruits, has been tried here and works admirably. Strawberries and similar tender juicy fruits have been put up in this way, without a particle of sugar, and they retain all their fresh appearance, in sealed glass jars, and look as whole as when first put away. It may be placed among the useful discoveries of these days, and all that is requisite for any body to manage the work successfully is a little experience. Mr. P. is disposing of a large number of these conveniences to our citizens, all of whom, so far as we have heard, are well pleased with their workings.

The long vacation has come once more, as our schools adjourned last week for some two months. It is a big play spell for our juveniles, but some of them will like it all the better for this.

Go to Ricks if you want to buy a suit of clothes, they are selling woolens very cheap.

After a protracted session, in which a large amount of business was transacted, court adjourns to-day.

Value of Property in the City of Massillon—1870.

A. J. Humberger, Esq., appraiser of real estate for the city of Massillon, has favored us with the following summary of the result of his labors in estimating its value. It was an arduous undertaking, but Mr. H. set to work, and through diligence and perseverance performed the duty required of him, it is hoped, to the satisfaction of our property holders and tax payers.

Total value of property in Massillon and its additions in 1860	$446,497
Increase in the city proper in ten years	802,751
Which makes the present valuation	$1,249,248

Lacking but a trifle of one and a quarter millions of dollars. We may safely assume that there are few towns in the country that have been organized and incorporated for nearly half a century that have increased the value of their property nearly 200 per cent.in 10 years. Should the ratio of increase for the coming ten years be limited in value to 100 per cent.—and it will more than probable exceed that—Massillon may boast of a wealth of two and a half millions dollars.

Mr. Humberger favored us likewise with the total valuation of property in Perry township, exclusive of Massillon, in 1860, which was $878,291. Of course farm property has also increased in value since that time, so that Perry township embraces an immense amount of wealth.

	Value—Lots.	Houses.	Mills.	Other Bldgs.	Total.
Massillon pro er	$290,393	$502,675	$25,700	$73,400	$901,168
Kendall	26,895	21,700		200	48,795

We would say to the people generally that all the stores will be closed on July 4th.

The Manchester Scythe Stone Manufactory, a short distance up the railroad, has been quiet for a few days, in order to make some repairs, get our material, and fix up things generally, are about commencing active operations again. The stone found up Newman's Creek is of excellent quality for this purpose, and the establishment of Reynolds, Sisler & Co. has all the facilities for making this useful article, which they have been doing by the hundreds of thousands for the last few years. When they have a full force of men on work is turned off very rapidly, which is necessary when we are made aware of the numerous large orders they are constantly receiving.

P. Stilgenbauer & Son are soon to put up a new building on their premises, on Mill street which is designed for a confectioners place of business.

Mr. J. S. Lockwood will soon open a store in the room lately occupied by Fassett, in the opera building, where he expects to keep queensware and a variety of other articles for sale.

Ricks' have reduced their lawns, if you wish to buy a dress now is the time.

Some of our people have been eating their new potatoes for the last week or two, and they have been sold and bought here at the usual tall prices for such timely luxuries.

From present indications it is expected that farmers will very soon begin to cut their grain—perhaps this week, as it is already ripening for the harvest—and the crop promises to be a good one.

If you wish to can raspberries you had better leave your orders at London's cheap cash store.

Last Thursday afternoon the cry of fire aroused our population, bells rang, fire companies were out, and the frame house occupied by Mr. Kellar, just west of the canal, near the railroad bridge was discovered on fire, somewhere in the second story. The flames were soon suppressed, but not until considerable damage had been done the house, but most if not all the household furniture was removed. On the night following this occurrance a slight fire occurred at the paper mill, but it was soon quenched, as there is always somebody at hand to watch.

Dress goods—you can find the largest assortment at Ricks' which they are bound to sell.

It would need the thunders of Sinai, or the roaring of Bonnerges to have kept all the sinners awake last Sunday, when the mercury was reveling in the nineties. Yet there were speakers, no doubt, who achieved this marvel, not so much from the loudness of their voices, as from the freshness of the ideas uttered Stereotyped preaching would have led hearers into the land of nod faster than in any other direction.

P. Stilgenbauer & Son, bakers, now furnish a good many of our people with bran bread, an article that all acknowledge to be the most healthy, but somehow comparatively few use it.

Mr. Durgin has removed his establishment, at which he repairs and sells jewelry, and clocks and watches, from Erie st. to the Meloicon block, just west of the canal, Main st, in the room lately occupied by M. Kester. Mr. D. is a deserving young man, and we hope he may be prosperous in his business.

Quite a number of papers are noising it over the country, that McFarland, the murderer of Richardson, once taught school in this place. Whether true or not we cannot say, but our old citizens can tell something about it if so. To say it mildly as possible this McFarland is a very unfortunate man, being a tyrant, a drunkard, crazy, and a murderer. It is said he is now in Indiana trying to annul the divorce that his wife obtained years ago. He also denies that he is crazy—if so he is only a more inexcusable murderer. If crazy, as the jury decided, he should be confined—if sane he should be punished as the law directs.

It was currently reported within the last week throughout this neighborhood (of weekly papers) that the Liverpool Record was dead, and these were about the last words it said of itself in the last regular issue. No doubt it looked so to Bro. Miller at that time, but he comes out in an extra on Friday last in which he says the paper is not dead, nor even sleepeth. Glad to know it for our friend has a place to fill in this profession which cannot be filled by another. Some months ago the Record was enlarged, a hazardous measure, for big papers in country towns are apt to sink themselves and their owners, but the little chaps are harder to kill off.

Potiphar's wife lived about 3,586 years ago, and it seems by a late paper that she still lives; and as she could not inveigle Joseph of old, she is trying her arts on some modern Joseph. Thus far our Joseph, like his ancient namesake, has been proof against Mrs. Potipher's seductions, but he had better look a little out or madam will get hold of some of his garments, which will look like prima facie evidence that the Joseph of 1870 is not the lineal descendant of him of 1716 B. C. For goodness sake, Joseph, don't let Mrs. Potiphar get hold of your trousers.

Messrs. Wm. Taylor and Henry Taylor are about to start a wire weaving establishment on Erie street, down toward the depot. This will be a paying business, as the demand for such manufacture is rapidly increasing; and in this immediate vicinity the builders of agricultural implements will need as much as two or three establishments can furnish, unless they are carried on extensively. Mr. Kittinger has a great deal more than he can do, no doubt, for the capacity of his machinery is not sufficient to supply the demand. The way is open here for a great deal more of this class of manufacture, and we hope that all who engage in it will be prosperous.

Something more than two years ago Mr. Q. W. Reeves purchased a rather rough looking lot of ground on the corner of Tremont and Mill streets. He, however, fixed up a marble shop there, and went vigorously to work to make improvements on the premises. He has put up several buildings, among which is a good carpenter shop, now occupied by Borden & Harbaugh, and the entire corner looks like a new place. The labor and expense attending these enterprises cost the proprietor some $3000 or $4000; and his marble business has so increased as to require the services of about a dozen men, and then he can't keep up with the orders as fast as they come in. That is the sort of enterprise that pays.

The New-York Herald of Monday says: Most of the appropriation bills are still unfinished, though they are generally pretty well advanced, and are mostly halted by reason of some inharmonious amendments. The army, tax and tariff, banking, funding and naturalization bills are in pretty much the same condition. While the apportionment bill, after having passed both houses, has been put back so far on account of disagreeing amendments that it will probably have to take an entirely new start. These are all important measures which should be passed.

Without boasting of being an organ of immense influence, we may with diffidence claim that the paper is not without usefulness in the right direction, ever contending for justice on all the living issues of the day. But its principal business has ever been to subserve the local interests of the community with which it is identified, and so it proposes to continue. Its home record of the ever varying phases of business, of the prosperity of the city, and of the social and moral state of society here, with other matters too numerous to specify, will give those who come after us, and have occasion to examine the files of this paper, a faithful history of the years of its existence.

We solicit the continued patronage of our people in the confidence that we shall render satisfaction—at least as near us as we can come at it—and for such as are removing elsewhere we hope to make the INDEPENDENT a very welcome visitor.

THE TRUE

THEORY OF PURGATION

APPLIED TO THE

Liver, Kidneys, Skin,

STOMACH & BOWELS.

DR. RADWAY'S

PERFECT

PURGATIVE PILLS,

Perfectly Tasteless,

ELEGANTLY COATED.

MATERIA MEDICA contains, in its repertoire, many purgative and cathartic agents that, for ordinary purposes, opens the bowels, and through what is called a "peristaltic" movement, purge from the alimentary canal the feces and this is all. Such agents, for the purpose of cure, or removal of any settled disease, are utterly useless.

DR. RADWAY has completed one of the most essential discoveries in medical chemistry—in the combination of vegetable substances, for the purposes of a PURGATIVE, APERIANT, COUNTER-IRRITANT, ALTERATIVE PILL, that can be taken or administered with the absolute certainty of securing THOROUGH EXPULSION OF ALL DISEASED AND DECOMPOSING Elements of the human body, and also safe to take in the most malignant of Eruptive Fevers. In cases where the mucous membranes of the internal viscera are suffering from Ulceration, Inflammation, or from

LIVER,

Gastric, Bilary, Pancreatic Complaints,

DR. RADWAY'S PILLS

Supply the only Vegetable substitute for

CALOMEL OR MERCURY.

In RADWAY'S PILLS you have one medicine that will secure quicker, more thorough and better results than will be given in from three or more different prescriptions of the medical practitioner. As a proof of this —You are seized with a Bilious attack! Doctor prescribes Blue Pills or Calomel next, some Drastic Aloetic Pill or Powders to work off the effects of the Blue Pill; this prostrates you, and a tonic is next given, or a gentle aperient, whereas ONE DOSE OF RADWAY'S PILLS will do all the work that the three or more prescriptions are given for, without running any risk from mercurialising or salivating the system.

RADWAY'S PILLS.

In RADWAY'S PILLS, the true principle of purgation is secured—not alone to the office of dismissing the feces and excrements from the bowels, but those humors that are checked or stopped in their passage through the Skin, Kidneys, Lungs, and all excreting and secreting functions; for if those excrementious secretions belonging to the skin, liver, lungs, kidneys, are interrupted in their escape, they become products of decay and decomposition, and must be purged from the living body through their proper channels; hence the purgative qualities of RADWAY'S PILLS extend to the secretions of the SKIN, KIDNEYS, LIVER, &c.; whereas not one of the advertised Pills claim to act beyond the bowels.

How to Take Radway's Pills.

THEIR DAILY USE.

In doses of one or two pills, to all persons of a full habit of body, subject to giddiness, rush of blood to the head, palpitation of the heart, and all those subject to fits, will not only keep the blood from becoming congested or clogged up in the blood vessels, but will equalize its circulation, and prevent sudden attacks of apoplexy, disease of the heart, congestion. Persons who will take one of these pills every day will not suffer from Headaches, Dizziness, Hysterics, Fainting Spells, Pains around the Heart, and a hundred other disagreeable symptoms.

DYSPEPSIA.

One of RADWAY'S PILLS, two or three hours before dinner, taken daily, will keep the system free from DYSPEPSIA, INDIGESTION, CONSTIPATION, COSTIVENESS, &c.

Bear in Mind,

RADWAY'S PILLS are the only purgative that will secure an alterative, diuretic, sudorific, aperient and tonic influence.

They are the only vegetable substitutes for Calomel or Mercury.

They promote the secretion of bile and withdraw it from the circulation.

They assist, through their nutritious properties, the chyme and chyle, and gastric juices in the process of digestion.

They are Elegantly Coated with Gum, Perfectly Tasteless, and free from Smell.

PRICE, Twenty-Five Cents per Box, or Five Boxes for One Dollar. Always ask for RADWAY'S PILLS, and see that the letters R. R. R. are on one side of label, and the words Radway's Regulators on the other. Sold by all Druggists and General Store Keepers, and at DR. RADWAY'S Medical Office, 87 Maiden Lane, New York.

C. F. GALTON'S

DYSPEPSIA REMEDY.

In offering this remedy to the public, we feel confident that every statement we make in regard to its curative properties will be fully verified by all who avail themselves of it. The prescription has been used in this city nearly ten years, and has never failed to effect a permanent cure whenever used in accordance with the directions, and the patient has had sufficient strength of mind to abstain from rich and indigestible food for a short time. In case of Heartburn, Waterbrash, Constipation, and Nervous Headache, arising from imperfect digestion, and all ailments which are produced from an abuse of that important organ, the stomach, it will afford permanent relief.

As an evidence that our statements can be fully relied upon, we refer the reader to the certificates below:

"For a number of years I was greatly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and although my stomach craved food, it would immediately reject it, should I eat anything, no matter how small the quantity I was frequently compelled to leave the table without being able to take any nourishment. In a short time I became very much reduced in flesh, and was so weak that I was unable and unfit to attend to my business. My mind was in no better condition than my body, as I was continually oppressed with lassitude and depression of spirits. I tried all the patent medicines and prescriptions that I heard of, and some of those afforded me temporary relief, but in a short time I relapsed into my former condition.

"While suffering in this manner I heard of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and concluded to try it. I had taken it but a short time when I began to feel relief, and continuing to take it, I soon could partake of my meals without any disagreeable feeling either while at the table or afterwards, and gained flesh rapidly. It is now nearly ten years since, and I have continued free from anything like a return of the Dyspepsia—I can therefore recommend it to any one suffering in like manner.

"Respectfully yours, ANDREW J. NICHOLSON.

"PITTSBURGH, March 20, 1869."

"This is to certify, that during the early part of the summer of 1868 my wife was much troubled with Dyspepsia. She had a severe pain in her side, her appetite was variable, and she became quite sallow. After having used two bottles of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, her appetite became good, she was relieved from the severe pain in her side, and her complexion became good again, all of which I attribute to the use of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and I have recommended it to all my friends and acquaintances. All that I can do to make its wonderful properties known, you can rest assured will be done. JAMES A. SMITH.

"PITTSBURGH, PA."

If you are suffering do not hesitate to buy a bottle of C. F. Galton's Dyspepsia Remedy, and avail yourself of its curative properties.

THE LIVING MACHINE.

Injure the main spring of a watch and every portion of the works becomes disordered. The human stomach is to the human system what that elastic piece of metal is to a chronometer. It influences the action of the other organs, and controls, to a certain extent, the whole living machine. The comparison may be carried further: for as the weakness or other imperfections of the main spring is indicated on the face of the timepiece, is the weakness or other disorder of the stomach betrayed by the face of the invalid. The complexion is sallow or failed, the eyes are deficient in lustre and intelligence, and there is a worn, anxious expression in the whole countenance which tell as plainly as written words could do, that the great nourishing organ whose office it is to minister to the wants of the body, and to sustain and renew all its parts, is not performing its duty. It requires renovating renovating and regulating, and to accomplish this end Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be truly said to be the one thing needful. The broken main spring of a watch may be replaced by a new one, but the stomach can only be repaired and strengthened, and this is one of the objects of the famous vegetable restorative which for eighteen years has been waging a successful contest with dyspepsia in all climates. As a specific for indigestion it stands alone. When the resources of the pharmacopœa have been exhausted, without, at best, doing more than mitigating the complaint, a course of this wholesome and palatable, yet powerful stomachic effects a perfect and permanent cure. In all cases of dyspepsia the liver is more or less disordered, and upon this important gland, as well as upon the stomach and bowels, the Bitters act with singular distinctiveness, regulating and reinvigorating every secretive and assimilating organ on which bodily and mental health depend. 362-4w

DYSPEPSIA.

THE

Medical Properties Possessed by

BELTZHOOVER'S

Dyspeptic Bitters

Are fully attested by the certificates of well known gentlemen who have tested their virtues. Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Ague, General debility, and similar diseases are totally eradicated from the system by their use, while as a blood purifier and appetizer, they are unapproachable.

Doctor S. Beltzhoover, the sole proprietor of these bitters, are manufacturing them extensively at their establishment, No. 77 Third avenue, Pittsburgh, and are prepared to fill all orders that may be sent to them.

At this season of the year the human system is generally in a debilitated condition and a tonic is necessary for the preservation of health. The Dyspeptic bitters are strongly recommended for their tonical virtues, and many persons are deriving great benefit from their use. These bitters are the best in the market, and are being generally adopted by our citizens.

HOW THE MINERS LIVE—"CORONATION" IN A COAL HOLE.

Writing from "among the Hills, Vinton county, Ohio," a correspondent of the Cincinnati Chronicle says:

The denizens of cities, as they sit around their cheerful fires little know the vast amount of time and labor that is necessary to get out of the bowels of the earth the black diamonds for their comfort. The miner's life is one of severe labor and peril. The damps and noxious vapors of the mines have continually to be contended with; and if these men are inclined to dissipation, it is hardly to be wondered at. To work in caverns, often partly nude and in darkness save the feeble and uncertain light emitted by the tiny, smoking lamp; to feel that the caving of the roof above or the collection of gas below may end life at almost any time, are not calculated to elevate or refine humanity.

Their pay is perhaps greater than that of laborers in other avocations, but even this is not enough to compensate very many men for the toil and privations of life in the mines. That miners have generally the reputation of being extravagant, dissolute and bad men, has been generally conceded, but we are too often ready to make this charge simply from hearsay. Admit that many of them are improvident and dissipated, still it is unfair to make the charge a sweeping one. It is nothing uncommon to find many of these searchers for treasures pure and good men, with the fear of God continually before their eyes, and who when seen at the rough but comfortable log cabins, are men of considerable intelligence and agreeable companions.

Very many of the miners are devout Christian men, and the bright Sunday morning finds them seated in the homely little churches, listening to the words of hope and wisdom from the 'Book of books.'

Some of these men are rare singers, whose voices, if cultivated would put to shame some of the German or Italian singers, who delight a metropolitan public at two dollars per head.

One of the grandest rehearsals it was ever my good fortune to listen to, was the singing of 'Coronation' by the miners, a mile under ground. It is impossible to describe the effect of this hymn. The pure, sweet tones of these diamonds in the rough, rose and swelled into a great volume of sweet sounds, and as it rolled and was echoed back by the numerous chambers and passages of the mine, produced an effect so wild and grand that it was impossible not to be affected by it.

But a few weeks since the leader of a concert troupe, while on a visit to a mine in Jackson county, discovered a young man possessed of such a voice that he engaged him at once as second tenor singer, and to day this young man is delighting hundreds of music loving people by his rendition of the wild and beautiful songs of his old Welch home.

Until within a few years this work of mining was in the hands of the Welch and English, but now most of the foreign elements are represented. Comparatively few Americans are to be found in the mines as diggers, they preferring to labor on the farms, in cities or at least where an abundance of light and air are afforded.

OHIO LIQUOR LAW

The growing interest in the suppression of the liquor traffic in this country may be subserved by stating briefly what the laws now in force prohibit:

1. Every sale of spiritous liquors on Sunday or on Election days.

2. To buy for, furnish, sell or give any intoxicating liquors to any person intoxicated, or to a person in the habit of getting intoxicated, or to a minor, without the written order of the parent, guardian or family physician, is forbidden.

3. The sale or giving away of intoxicating liquors, in any quantity, to be drunk on or about the premises. From this section is excepted native wine, beer, ale and cider; but this exception does not extend to other cases.

4. The sale of intoxicating liquors within four miles of a camp meeting or other religious meeting held in an open field or wood land. The penalties prescribed under these several heads vary from $5 to $100, and in some cases imprisonment from 10 to 30 days.

5. Tippling houses may be declared nuisances and closed up.

6. Persons intoxicated may be fined $5.

7. Families deprived of support by the sale to the husband of intoxicating liquors, may have damages in a civil action, against the party making the sale.

8. Persons taking care of and providing for intoxicated persons, may recover compensation against the party furnishing the liquor.

9. Persons keeping nine-pin alleys or permitting them to be kept, in connection with retailing spiritous liquors or the keeping of a public house, are liable to a fine of $500.

An old Dutchman took a job of hauling cotton across the country to a certain river and one day he stopped the team about noon for the purpose of eating his dinner, and giving refreshment and rest to his horses. Perceiving indications of a spring a little distance from the road, he left his son in charge of the horses and carried his tin pail over to the water. It proved to be a hot spring, and the old Dutchman cried out in terror to his son with a loud voice:

Haunse! trive on! trive on to deam for God's sake! Hell is not von mile vom dish playshe."

Mark Twain says that Sandwich Islands' dish of plain dog "is only our cherished American sausage with the mystery removed."

The best preparation known in market for restoring gray hair to its original color, is Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer. Try it.

There is a young lady of vast wealth, residing in the vicinity of Union Square, New York city, who employs her leisure and pocket money in buying cloth, muslin, and calico by the wholesale, and cutting it into garments. She takes her carriage and goes into lanes and by-ways, giving work to needy people; and when finished are liberally paid for, she generally bestows her comfortable garments on those poor men, and their wives and children, who fought and bled in the late war. None are turned from her door without the help that maketh the heart glad. She is said to be highly accomplished, agreeable, modest and seeks happiness in doing good to all. She is devoted to her work and a dear relative, and has refused the hand of some of the leading men of the nation.

A Boston writer comes to the defence of women against the current notion that they are particularly addicted to gossip, alleging that in a country grocery among barrels of molasses and piles of salt fish, more gossip is talked by men in one evening, than is heard in all the farm houses of the town.

Human pledges can go no further. The negro voters of Louisville carry a banner inscribed: 'We will live on hash before we will vote the Democratic ticket.'

Miss Lizzie J. Barlow and Mill Della Chapman set type in the office of the Bridgeport (Ct.) Standard, receiving pay at the same rate as the men. Miss Chapman's weekly wages exceed those of any of the half dozen men who work in the office.

It has already been announced that the School of Arts in Edinburgh, Scotland, has been opened to women. The first session under the new arrangment has just commenced and above sixty women students have already been enrolled.

'Ma,' said Fred, 'I should rather be a wild turkey, and my life out on the prairies, than be a tame turkey and be killed every year."

MRS. ALLEN'S

Hair Restorer & Zylobalsamum

Are so uniformly grateful and beneficial, that they are with justice called the natural strengtheners of the human hair. They are two entirely separate and distinct preparations, not to be used together at one time.

Mrs. Allen's Hair Restorer

Never fails to satisfy the most refined and cultivated. A guarantee goes with every bottle, that it will quickly restore gray or white hair to its original youthful beauty, gloss and color; after its use a few times the hair will grow thicker and stronger. It will stop its falling and induce a healthy and luxuriant growth. It is an exquisite hair dressing, agreeable, harmless and healthy. Entirely different from most other preparations for the hair, its composition and ingredients are nourishing, giving life and vigor to the Roots.

Mrs. Allen's Zylobalsamum

This exquisite preparation is free from any sediment, and is a toilet treasure. The urgent want of a simple Hair Dressing, for the youth of both sexes, first induced the manufacture of the Zylobalsamum, and the sale of it is perfectly immense, not only in this country, but in Europe.

EXTRACTS FROM A FEW LETTERS.

"Your Zylobalsamum is used by every member, young and old, of our family, and we consider it invaluable. Should any gray hairs appear, we shall try your Hair Restorer, which we hear very highly spoken of."

"Father and mother use your Hair Restorer, and are delighted with it. It soon restored their gray locks to their youthful color, but daughters and son still find in the Zylobalsamum all their hair requires."

From the Principal of one of our large Female Seminaries.. "Your Zylobalsamum has been used for many years by myself and family, and is the favorite among our young ladies."

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

This is the most thorough blood purifier yet discovered, and cures all humors from the worst scrofula to a common empidem. Pimples and blotches on the face, and a scaly or rough skin, which are such annoying blemishes to many young persons, yield to the use of a few bottles of this wonderful medicine. From one to eight bottles cures salt rheum, ringworm, old sores, tetter, ring worms, boils, scaly eruptions of the skin, scrofula sores, ulcers, and canker in the mouth and stomach. It is a pure medicinal extract of native roots and plants, combining in harmony nature's most sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick. It is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are languid, sleepless, have nervous apprehensions or fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of weakness, will find convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated and despondent, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly in the morning, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or biliousness. In many cases of liver complaint only a part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strong and healthy. For the cure of habitual constipation of the bowels it is a never failing remedy, and those who have used it for this purpose are loud in its praise. In bronchial, throat and lung diseases, it has produced many truly remarkable cures, where all other medicines had failed. Sold by druggists at $1 per bottle. Prepared at the Chemical Laboratory of R. V. PIERCE, M. D Buffalo, N. Y 63-3m
